

Povidky: Short Stories by Czech Women

By Nancy Hawker, David Short, Kathleen Hayes

Saqi Books. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Povidky: Short Stories by Czech Women, Nancy Hawker, David Short, Kathleen Hayes, This collection brings together authors of different generations, styles and backgrounds. Some, like Daniela Hodrova, Alexandra Berkova and Kvita Legatova struggled under the communist regime's censorship, others - Lenka Reinerova and Vira Stiborova for instance - recall life before it. The younger generation, represented by Magdalena Platzova and Kateoina Rudeenkova among others, tackle life after the 1989 'Velvet Revolution'. For the first time in an anthology of translated Czech literature, this book also features two short stories written by Czech Roma. Tera Fabianova remembers her first years at school just before World War II, when she was the only Roma child in a Czech classroom. Erika Olahova weaves fantasy into her poignant tale of an ostracised Roma woman mistreated by the men of her village. A lyrical, mysterious tour through Prague mixes history with legend and everyday reality. A child's philosophical reflections on the Christian concept of sinfulness lead him to resolve to sin 'just a little bit'. A witty style informs stories of drunken men bantering over interminable card games, teenage girls smoking in school toilets, and a woman...

READ ONLINE
[6.49 MB]

Reviews

An extremely wonderful book with lucid and perfect information. It is one of the most awesome publication i have read. Your life period will probably be enhance the instant you total looking at this pdf.

-- Prof. Dan Windler MD

It is really an amazing publication i actually have at any time read. It is really simplistic but unexpected situations inside the 50 percent of your pdf. Its been written in an exceptionally simple way in fact it is just right after i finished reading this ebook where actually transformed me, alter the way i really believe.

-- Dr. Celestino Spinka III