Doubleday. 1 Cloth(s), 2014. hard. Book Condition: New. Despite having worked at the Mauthausen concentration camp for only a few months in 1941, Aribert Heim killed hundreds of prisoners in grotesque medical experiments, earning him the nickname "Dr. Death." After the war, Heim escaped prosecution, establishing himself as a doctor and family man in Baden-Baden. Written by the New York Times reporters who saw the case through to its conclusion, this history is also the tale of German police investigator Alfred Aedtner, who joined forces with Nazi hunter Simon Wiesenthal on a decades-long, international search for Heim, a quest that would lead them to Egypt."[This book] reconstructs Heim's dark odyssey from his sadistic practices in Mauthausen to his life in hiding as a convert to Islam in Cairo. Part detective story, part meditation on how family loyalties obstructed those seeking justice, this book is a remarkable achievement."Andrew Nagorski 301.
